Easter

THE Sea Coast Echo extends its greetings for a very blessed and happy Easter to not only its readers but to one and all.

Easter when the Christ Lord has risen, is a season of inspiration and new hope and should replete in all hearts a feeling anew and one akin to Godliness. It is a great spiritual season for the glory of the Risen Christ again comes home in annual celebration with all sublime beauty and lasting lesson, and brings to mind again the immortality of the soul.

Inspiration and hope, as the poet has said, springeth eternal in the human breast. It is well we thrive on hope and prosper on inspiration. Easter is the joyous season. It is potential in vast wealth of mankind. May we all profit by the lesson of the Resurrection and lead that life that means the most to our fellowmen. In this way our manner and deeds reflect in manifold measures to our happiness and satisfaction.

KITES AND WIRES.

THIS is the season of the year when youngsters of various ages delight in the flying of kites.

Some of the youngsters with gray hair and many years have to enjoy their kite-flying by proxy but boys and girls will go them one better putting up their kites in the breezes.

It is well to warn the youngsters to stay away from electric power lines and highways. Don't use wire for a kite-string or a cord with tinsel or wire in it. Be sure the cord isn't wet. If your kite breaks loose and the cord falls across electric wires leave it alone.

Of course, we know that very few boys and girls who actually fly kites each spring, will read this editorial. However, the retired kite-flyers, remembering the days of their youth, might be reminded to caution their youngsters. A few words of warning, sometimes, might save a young life.

HOW?

THE statement has been made that one-fourth of our population is not eating the proper diet which makes people strong and healthy.

There may be some excuse for this condition among industrial workers many of whom have been without employment for months. There is little excuse for such a condition among agricultural people. Those who live on our farms should, at least, take advantage of their opportunity and provide proper diet for their families.

It is little shot of amazing to drive through so-called prosperous agricultural areas and note the absence of orchards, pastures, gardens, poultry, hogs, and cows. How do people who reside on such places get the idea that they are farmers?

DELAY IN OPENING THEATER.

MR. Ed. P. Ortte, builder and owner of the new Bay St. Louis theater in course of construction, who had hoped to be able to open for the Easter season, announces, much to his chagrin in disappointing the public, that the delay is due to the fact of building a more modern and larger theater than he had at first planned.

However, he announces, work is progressing rapidly and satisfactorily and that he hopes to be able to announce the formal opening within the next two or three weeks.

He asks the public's indulgence.

GOOD FRIDAY PROCLAMATION.

THE Mayor, his signature attested to by the city commissioners, has issued special proclamation, proclaiming today—Good Friday—a day of formal observance in commemoration and reverence. And, as such, asks that all places of business, that can consistently do so, close at least during the time of the three-hour agony, from noon to 3 p. m., in order employees and others of the Catholic faith may attend the religious exercises in progress at that time.

This proclamation is fitting reassurance when at this time the world seems, in a measure and in large part over the globe, to be losing in that spiritual consolation that only religion gives.

$175,000 FOR ONE BOOK.

IF there are any budding authors in Hancock county, anxiously wondering about the future, we all attention to the sale of a book to a moving picture company for $175,000.

Moreover the book is, as yet, unpublished although it has been presented serially in a magazine. The work is Edna Ferber's novel, "Saratoga Trunk."

Local authors may not be able to ring the bell for $175,000 a novel, but if they manage to make a success of writing, they might get enough to keep the wolf from the door.

The Sea Coast Echo is the best advertising medium that we know of in this section, but it can't make people buy unless the merchants here have the things to sell that the people want.

FIRST IN EIGHTEEN YEARS.

THE 35,000-ton battleship North Carolina was placed in active service on April 9th. It is the first battleship to be built in the United States in eighteen years and was commissioned nearly three months ahead of schedule.

The "newest and most formidable fighting ship in the world" will have a complement of 1,500 officers and men. She will carry nine 16-inch guns, each sixty feet long, and they will hurl some twenty tons of TNT every sixty seconds on a target eighteen miles away. The battleship is a costly vessel. The North Carolina represents an expenditure of $67,725,500. This is enough to build many school-houses but few Americans today regret the money that is in her hull and machinery.

The big ship will make twenty-seven knots. It is provided with blisters for protection against torpedoes and mines. Armored decks protect against shells and bombs and vital parts are guarded by sixteen inches of steel plate. The secondary battery of twenty guns is available against planes as well as surface targets. There are other smaller guns for aircraft defense. She carries four airplanes.

The powerhouse of the dreadnought develops 115,000 horsepower from oil-fired boilers. She measures 704 feet in length at the water line and has a maximum beam of 108 feet. It takes about twenty-seven feet of water to float her.

The comforting thought, in connection with the commissioning of this battleship, is that others, like her and much larger, are on the ways. Another will be in service in a month or so. Four more will be ready in a year. Afterwards, battleships will steam from construction yards at the rate of six or more a year, and some of them will be almost twice the size of the North Carolina.

LEONORA DEL BONDIO.

On Palm Sunday there passed away a generous and most gracious personality in the death of Miss Leonora Del Bondio who resided for the past dozen years or more at Pass Christian and was equally as well known in Bay St. Louis.

Originally from New Orleans, Miss Del Bondio following the passing away of her mother moved to Pine Hills, where she resided until two years later. She moved to the coast line, taking up her residence on the beach.

Her home was open to all who knew her. There was never a more generous soul and a kinder heart. Her charities were vast and it may well be said knew no limit.

It was the Del Bondio family who gave the great library of today at Loyola University and it was they who gave the nucleus for WWL radio station to the university.

Hospitals and orphan in various cities felt the warm pulsating hand of aid from the heart treasure of Miss Del Bondio. She was lavish in her gifts to the needy and her crown in heaven must be studded with jewels.

Her passing is deeply deplored. Her great object in life was to make others happy. This was well exemplified in her daily life. She was unceasing in this effort. Her home was the Mecca for all who knew her. She loved to be surrounded by her friends, and her cheerfulness, despite her years of illness, ever radiated a warm welcome. She never murmured nor complained. She bore her discomforts with remarkable fortitude and Christian resignation.

This unusual personality will be missed from a wide circle of friends. It may well be said the world is better for her having lived.

FOR THE LOCAL HOSPITAL.

THE generosity of the people of this section can always be depended on. They never fail to rally to a call. Their contributions may not all be large ones but in the aggregate amount to surprising proportions.

Soon they will be called upon to again contribute to the annual shower for the local King's Daughters' hospital, announcement of which will be found in the news columns of The Echo.

The hospital gives more free hospitalization than pay and this is in appreciable proportion. The extent far exceeds that of the pay wards, and while there is support coming from both city and county and the State as well, this amount in the total is far from sufficient to adequately carry on.

Thus every year on Florence Nightingale's birthday, the linen and miscellaneous shower is given and in this way the hospital receives supplies to renew its exhausted stock. Contributions in cash, linen or articles to be used in hospital may be sent at any time. However, the date for the day will be formal time to give. Mrs. Fournier, the president, says the public has never failed the hospital.

FLOWER SHOW

THE public is invited to visit the annual flower show of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club, held next Saturday and Sunday at the Seagull building, which Mrs. John N. Stewart, public-spirited citizen, has generously loaned for the occasion, April 19-20.

Mrs. Alice C. Buckley is chairman of the committee having charge this exhibit and judging from clever activity in the premises, combined with her executive ability, the flower show will not only come up to par but will exceed previous efforts, without disparaging the efforts of her predecessors.

The flower show for Bay St. Louis is a public enterprise, a civic gesture and not only contributes to the cultural side of the city but serves as an advertisement of inestimable value. More power to the Bay-Waveland Garden Club and success to its flower show.

PROPHECY IN JAPAN

THE art of prophecy is on the decline in Japan. On the 10th of March, a Japanese official, who had been a member of the Japanese government, was asked to predict the future of the world.

State Board Says What To Do In Case Of Prevalent Measles

Measles is a dangerous and very contagious disease. The first signs of measles are sneezing, running at the nose, and a slight cough. The eyes look red and watery and the light hurts them.

It is during this early period that others are most liable to catch the disease. The child may appear to have only a cold. But the mother who sends her child to school or allows him to play in the street at this time is helping to spread the disease to other children.

If your child shows the first signs of measles, call the doctor without delay. He will give your child the proper treatment.

Do not let the child get up until the doctor says it is safe, and take him to the doctor again in a few months to make certain there are no bad aftereffects.

COUNTY WELFARE WORKER HOME FROM STATE CONVENTION

Mrs. Eunice Casanova Represents Hancock Office Rated as Highest in The State.

Mrs. Eunice Casanova, welfare worker for Hancock county, returned Saturday from Jackson, where she attended the state conference of social and welfare workers.

The work of this organization includes old age assistance, aid to dependent children, Confederate pensioners and aid to the blind and Mrs. Casanova says that Hancock county measures up with the other counties with the work it is doing. The local office is rated as one of the highest in the state.

There are 185 on the old age assistance rolls and the pay roll for April is $1584.50. The aid for dependent children is a recent addition embraced in the work and the age limit is 16 but has taken in 18 year olds if they are still in school. This office has at present eight children on the rolls. The eldest child in a group of one family is allowed $10 and others in the family $7.50 each. Two blind persons are also on the rolls and the office is endeavoring to devise a plan by which to make the young men self supporting. Mrs. Casanova was a guest at the governor's mansion for a part of her stay in Jackson.

CITY COUPLE COMES TO COUNTRY, PROVES SOIL POSSIBILITIES

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Mitchell Establish Selves at Lakeshore.

Just off the newly graveled Lakeshore road stands a white cottage surrounded by five acres of ground, the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Mitchell which is wonderful evidence of just what can be done with enough energy and determination to wrest a livelihood from the soil. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell purchased this land in December of 1940 and began at once clearing it of stumps and preparing to farm in a small way. In these few months they have erected a comfortable cottage, a large garage, numerous duck pens and houses and a duck pond supplied with water from the overflow of their well and have an excellent start in raising ducks and chickens. Their cow supplies milk and cream cheese for their own use and the surplus they sell to neighbors.

At present Mr. Mitchell is constructing a chicken house in which he expects to have incubators, brooders and the necessities for raising chickens for market, while Mrs. Mitchell is very proud of her garden in which she expects to have vegetables very soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell are former residents of New Orleans and state this is their first experience with farming and admit that the time of their labor was the work of a great deal of hard work and the joy of them but are rewarded

NOTES FOR THE HOMEMAKER.

Now is the time to begin the defense of woolen clothes against the annual attack of the hungry clothes moth.

Clothes moths cannot eat cotton or paper. They eat woolen, and prefer wool-soiled by body oils; therefore a coat or dress that has been worn is not clean as far as the moth is concerned.

The white worm with the dark head is the stage of moth that eats the woolen clothes.

The little fast running, fish like creatures, often found in homes is a "silver fish," and cannot eat wool but does eat paper, cotton and linen containing starch.

To Protect Woolen Clothes

1. Clean thoroughly by dry cleaning or soap and warm water, or sun two days in direct sunlight, turning several times a day, taking care to expose all inside seams and pockets.

2. Pack in air tight chest, closets, trunks, well wrapped past board boxes, and air tight paper bags.

3. Place clean blankets in socks made of thick cotton, sewed at top or securely tied.

Moth control sprays are labeled "contact sprays" and the spray must touch the moth to destroy or kill.

Cedar chest or cedar lined closets do not fully protect clothes from moths, unless they are air tight and clean.

CARROLL AND MC-MURRAY ARE TEAMED FOR THIRD TIME

A gay modern comedy drama, set off by striking Technicolor, brings Madeline Carroll and Fred McMurray together as a team for the third time when Paramount's "Virginia" opens Sunday at the A. & G. Theater.

Added to the famous duo is handsome blond newcomer to the screen, Stirling Hayden, who shows a great promise of becoming a star in his own right, very very soon.

"Virginia" is a story of a "second invasion" of the Old Dominion by a sudden influx of large numbers of wealthy Northerners who buy up the beautiful estates that have been the ancestral homes of prominent Southern families. It was written by Virginia Can Up from data that she collected in the course of several months' stay in the picturesque Shenandoah Valley.

The plot revolves around the return of a native Virginia girl, who had moved away when still a very small child, to find herself landpoor, and her rebellion against the slow, easy-going, Virginia manner of living. However, through the love and devotion of her neighbor and the loyalty of old family servants, she becomes acutely conscious of her heritage and responsibility to carry on the venerable family traditions.

Sermon By Rev. J. Casper, S. V. D., At Delta, Thursday, April 3rd

Despite the inclement weather Very Rev. John Casper, S. V. D., delivered before a nice congregation a most impressive sermon from the Passion Sunday Gospel on Catholicism, "Christ's Heritage To Us" taken for his text.

He that is of God, heareth the words of God. (John XIII, 47.)

Christ reveals for us the reasons why the Jews, to whom the Divine promises had been made, were ultimately rejected.

In our days of infidelity we imitate the Jews in obstinacy, perfidy and take stones and throw them at Christ, the Light of the world. History repeats itself. We must hear the word of God and we don't hear it because like in Christ's time we are incredulous, because we are too much occupied in pursuits, occupations, fashions and ridicule humility, chastity, sufferings in a word, Christian perfection. Let us examine ourselves during Lent if we belong to God. We have the blueprints of life in his laws. Signals to safeguard us on the ocean of life. Let us be mindful of little things of God's service. Our life belongs to the Master and we cannot be of the world. We cannot deny our origin, being created to His own image. Let us examine ourselves if we hear the word of God which is manifest to us exteriorly as the key of the background of life is to obey the commandments and interiorly we must cooperate to the inspiration of Divine grace. Live in the presence of God and hear his voice because blessed are they who hear the word of God and keep it.

Let Jesus be our model and type, let us follow Him on the Way of the Cross, that we may be worthy to follow Him into the glory of Heaven.

GREAT WORK OF RED CROSS IN COUNTRIES OF STRICKEN EUROPE

Brief Outline of the Work in Progress—Sorrowed Europeans Given Aid by the Organization—Hancock County Residents Asked to Help in Work of Sewing or Knitting.

The American Red Cross, obligated by treaty to assist its sister Red Cross societies throughout the world in relieving the suffering of war victims, is taking an important part in European war relief operations. This has been made possible through the generous response of the American public in over-subscribing a $20,000,000 war relief fund, and by the delegation of men sent abroad to supervise distribution of supplies in stricken areas among refugees, the sick and wounded, who also act as liaison between the American Red Cross and European Red Cross societies, as well as the representatives of belligerent governments.

Relief from the American Red Cross has been rushed to Europe in three ways. 1st thru the production by Chapter volunteers of 1,200,000 articles of clothing and 10,000,000 surgical dressings.

2nd, Through purchases in this country of thousands of tons of food, medicines, ambulances, hospital equipment and other relief essentials.

3rd, Through allocation of cash funds to Red Cross societies in Europe and to the European delegation for the purchase in European markets of supplies needed on an emergency basis.

American Red Cross relief operations have benefited the war suffering of all belligerent nations in Europe, and victims of every great disaster occurring in our own country.

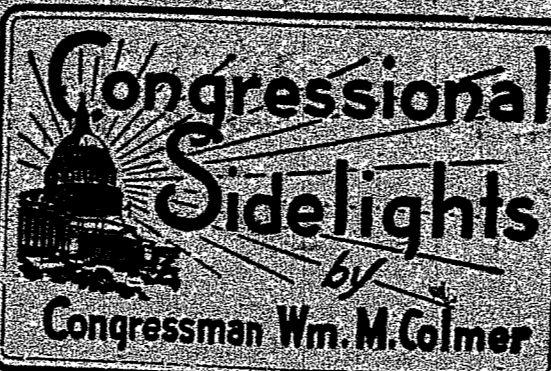

When war moved into the low countries and France, driving millions of men, women and children to Southern France, the American Red Cross again was quick in extending its arm of mercy, and supplies from this country and Europe were quickly mobilized for feeding the sick, wounded and weary who fled from north out of the Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg, Holland, Sweden and the occupied sections of France.

Now with the increasing demands of the national defense program of the U. S., every citizen is asked as his patriotic duty to engage in some manner of relief work, and the Red Cross with its gigantic task of providing clothing and sustenance to so many millions in Great Britain and the war-ridden countries of the European continent, as well as China, offers every opportunity to anyone wishing to sew or knit garments, or receive instructions in first aid, which, with or without war, is almost an essentiality. So, why not volunteer today to take your part in this great and patriotic work. The Red Cross is everyone's Red Cross and Hancock County's Chapter is endeavoring to live up to its past record of fulfilling its quota of work on scheduled time, so again won't you do your part?

Mrs. Dennis F. Burge left early this week for a visit during the Easter holidays with her mother, Mrs. Julian Wolfe, in Opelousas, La. Mr. Burge joining her later in the week at the close of St. Stanislaus College.

J. C. Roland, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Roland, who has been home the last few days for a visit with his parents, left on Wednesday of this week to assume his duties as Staff Sergeant in the Army Service at Puerto Rico.

Mrs. Annabelle Coker and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Daugherty, members of the William Creevy family, spent last Sunday here at their summer home on Sycamore street getting their cottage in readiness for the Easter holidays when the younger members of the family always arrive with some of the college set for the week-end.

Air School

The War Department has formally announced its Air Corps expansion program for enlisted men, under which a mechanical training school is to be established in our District and at Wichita Falls, Texas. An allocation of $25,000,000 has been made for the construction of the two schools. These new schools together with existing technical schools are expected to turn out 100,000 plane technicians each year.

Under this new program the Bi-Lox and Wichita Falls schools will enroll 800 enlisted students every 14 days for 22 weeks of instruction in aircraft mechanics. Each institution is expected to turn out 20,000 aircraft mechanics a year. Approximately 14,500 officers, enlisted men, and enlisted students will be stationed at each school.

Courses offered in these schools are as follows: airplane mechanic, aircraft armorer, aircraft machinist, aircraft metal worker, aircraft welder, supply and technical clerk, link trainer instructor, parachute rigger, photographer, radio operator and mechanic, teletype, weather observer (advanced), bomb-sight maintenance, carburetor maintenance, electrician, instrument maintenance, propeller maintenance, advanced photography, weather forecaster.

Persons interested in enlisting for this training should get in touch with the nearest Army Recruiting Office.

Parity Payments

Some several days ago the House passed the annual Agriculture Appropriation Act. This bill, when reported to the floor, carried an item of $212,000,000 for parity payments to farmers on the basis of agricultural products. This was in accordance with the recommendation of the Budget and Incidentally marked the first time that the President had approved any sum looking toward parity payments.

During the consideration of the bill on the floor of the House a number of us made an effort to increase this item from $212,000,000 to $450,000,000, but we were swamped by an avalanche of "noes." However, when the bill came up in the Senate the Senate Agriculture Appropriations Committee raised the item to the full $450,000,000. This action of the Appropriation Committee was ratified on the floor of the Senate with only nine votes being cast against the item.

This action of the Senate was most gratifying to all friends of agriculture in both branches of Congress. And when the bill comes back to the house on a conference report a determined fight is going to be made by those of us who believe in parity payments for farmers to keep the sum of $450,000,000 in the bill. The necessity of this is obvious. Due to competition from abroad and substitutes for cotton the demand for the South's basic crop has considerably dwindled. But those of us who have led the fight in the House for parity payments to farmers realize that we have a real fight on our hands. Therefore, when the House goes back into session after the Easter recess a battle royal may be expected.

Personal and General

Half way into the year, it is gratifying to find that there has been a decided shift and the community has taken the usual amount of reading matter, with a social register, farmers and business every week for Echo readers.
